Karen Beggs, Tom Shields and Jane Wordsworth

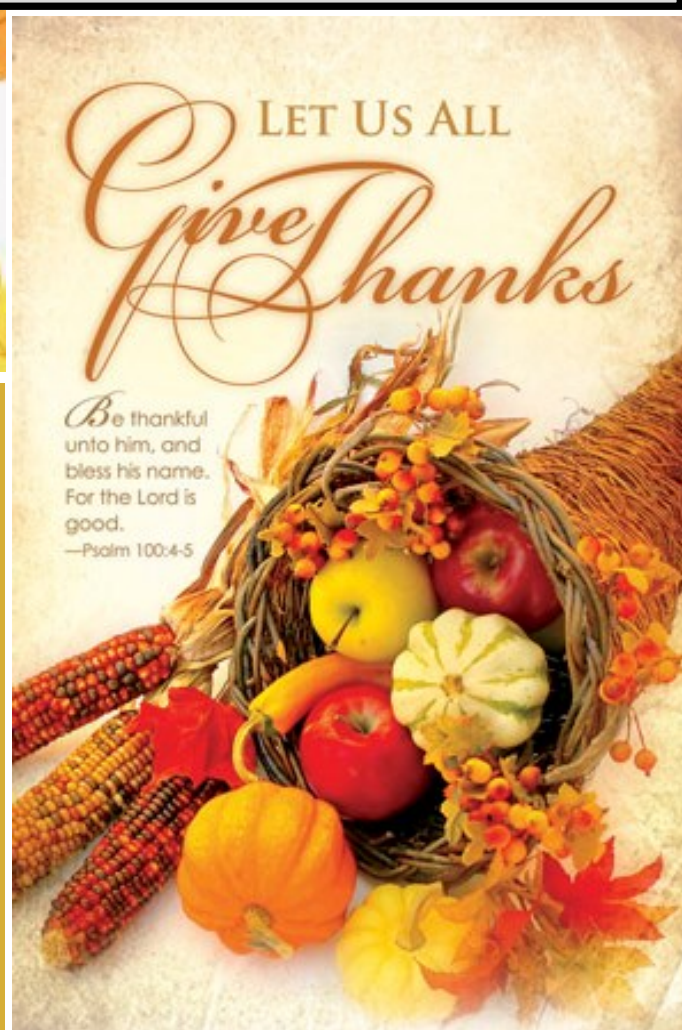

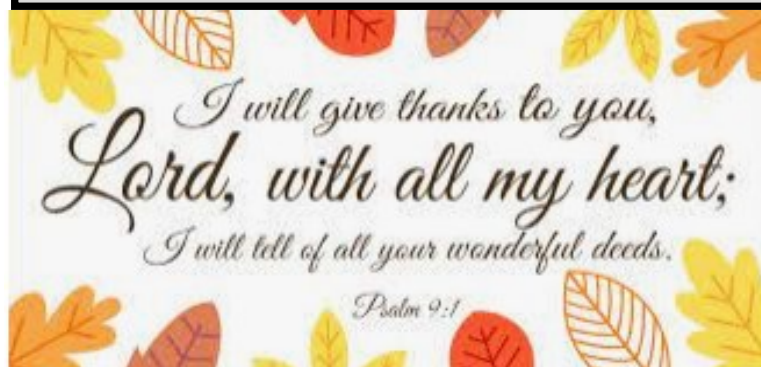

Pastor Christian and Pastor Tiffany return from their sabbatical on November 2.

Thank you to all who held down the fort, continued the work of the church, and led worship in their absence.

We are most grateful.

Have you all fallen in love with a phrase or word from a particular Psalm as we join our Pastors in diving into the Psalms?

While the Pastors discover the Psalms anew, they pray that you too will be encouraged, engaged, and enriched by the Psalms during this sabbatical time.

May God be with us all, and between us, in this time apart.

Welcome New Staff Maggie Ribb Minister of Music

It was the most perfect spring day as I sat between my mother and father on those weird folding chairs that always made a squishy sound when you sat down. We were "in church" - a hall really, as the new addition including a big new sanctuary in view right outside the window was nearing completion. The organist had just finished the prelude and was about to start the opening hymn in the manner he always did: modulating to the new key, laying up organ stops, culminating with the opening introduction to the hymn. He did this every Sunday, and it never got old. But on this particular Sunday it was different for me, and I could not have felt more of a call to the work than if someone had tapped me on the shoulder. I remember the sunshine streaming in and the music swirling all around. I was 11-- ineffably hooked on church music and making no secret of my desire to play and learn at every opportunity. This church was new to us. We joined as part of a merger from an old Methodist Episcopal church in the next city, where I had spent Sundays listening to choral warm-ups and pipe organ music; singing hymns, (chanting) psalms and spiritual songs, as the scripture goes. But with this new church would come all sorts of possibilities. Every two years we benefited from the leadership of different Masters' candidates from Union Theological Seminary, and I personally benefited from lessons in piano, keyboard harmony and conducting: opportunities to accompany congregations and have my own junior choir. College years brought studies in composition and organ, with summers in between working as a supply organist with pick-up choirs.

Having moved to the Cape from Fairfield, CT and Madison, NJ (Drew University) in the 70's, I eventually decided on foregoing the commute to New York to study composition, and instead focus on church work exclusively - that, and marrying my collaborator in music, Ron, starting a clam rake business with him and buying a house here in East Harwich. Our children, Greta and Kersti, came into the world shortly thereafter, accompanying their mom to any number of church services in infant seats and backpacks. Twelve churches and twenty-one clergy later (including the new St. Peter's mission in the old South Harwich meeting-house years ago), I feel like I've come full circle.

I am so very delighted to be called to this church: a church made up of dedicated and faithful parishioners inspired in word and deed by their clergy, going about their work with tremendous energy and joy! I could see this immediately in conversations with the music search team; everyone was so welcoming and easy to talk to. They dedicated so much effort to the process, each bringing their own time and talents to the table. Such committees are often a microcosm of the entire parish, and I look forward to church life at St. Peter's because my "home church" is always the one I am serving at the time.

I am blessed to have my children close by: Greta in Chathamport, and Kersti in Harwich. They are both welders in the rake business and have been by my side through all the twists and turns life has brought us. Greta spends more time these days in their floral business, and welding is a second career for Kersti after having studied and worked as an APRN in Psychiatry at Yale - New Haven Hospital. And then there's little Oscar, our dachshund rescue and major part of our family. Hmm...my favorite sweet treat? There are so many, but certainly Spritz comes to mind. There must be someone in this church who makes those! One of my favorite church songs is "Be Unto Your Name" by Lynn Deshazo, and one of my favorite Bible verses is Hebrews 11:1 - "Now faith is confidence in what we hope for and assurance about what we do not see." My question for God someday? With all you had to choose from, why did you choose me? I think I already know the answer. God calls each one of us in differing ways. We just have to be listening and respond.

It has been a pleasure talking with Joanie, Kathy and Rebecca as I try to navigate preparations while the Pastors are on sabbatical. Truly, I am grateful for all of their help in this time of transition. Additionally I think I speak for everyone when I say we appreciate all of the work of the many gifted supply musicians who have done an outstanding job of providing meaningful music for worship in the past months.

Looking forward to this next chapter with the people of St. Peter's...

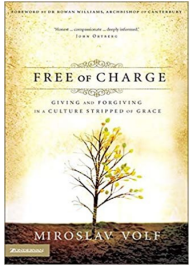

Blessings and peace,
Maggie

Adult Education

Bible Study for Women

We have completed our 30 day spiritual journey with Julian of Norwich. We've decided to take off the months of September and October until Pastor Tiffany returns from sabbatical.

Our next book will be Free of Charge: Giving and Forgiving in a Culture Stripped of Grace by theologian Miroslav Volf.

Several copies are available at the church office if you are interested in beginning to read it. It is available on Bookshop.org.

The group will meet November 3 and 17 at 7 pm.

Centering Prayer

Tuesday, 11/9 & 11/23 @ 10:00 am - Sanctuary

Kathy Teahan from St. Mary of Magdala will be leading this. All are welcome. Contact Kathy at kathyteahan@hotmail.com if you have any questions.

Sunday School Teachers Needed

We hope to resume Sunday School this fall and are looking for volunteer teachers. Contact Pastor Tiffany if you are able to help.

Classes for New Members

Are you interested in officially joining St. Peter's as a member?

Whether you are new to the Christian faith, a lifelong Lutheran coming from a different congregation, or just interested in learning more about us, we'd love to have you join us for this class.

The two sessions of the New Members class will be held Tuesday, November 9 and Tuesday, November 16 at 1:00 pm. Let Joanie in the church office know of your interest. Email office@stpeterscapecod.org or call 508-432-5172.

St. Peter's Sojourners

Now that many of you are vaccinated, we've changed our procedures for weekly walks together. We continue to invite new walkers and ask that they email jay.tichenor@gmail.com if they wish to join the group and get updated info on where our walks will be. We will once again meet at the church parking lot for car pooling, at 8:10 am Tuesdays.

Masks are not required for the walk but must be worn if breakfast establishments require them. We always plan on going to breakfast after each walk.

For those wishing to know the meeting place for the start of each walk if it's more convenient & closer than the church, directions for the trail head will be sent each week. The Sojourners walk at different locations on the Cape each week, and we're always open to a new trail we've not tried before, perhaps it might be your favorite.

Peace, Jay Tichenor

Loaves & Fishes Pantry NEEDS YOU!

Last call for volunteer coordinator!
Don't let this service come to an end!

PANTRY UPDATE

I am writing to let you all know that nobody has shown any interest in the manager job for St. Peter's Pantry. It's too bad as there is a great work force ready to carry on this endeavor. Therefore I will not be putting any future request for food items for the pantry as I want to use the supply I have as much as possible.

I will still be available if anyone changes his/her mind and will show the paperwork that is required.

I also will be collecting articles for Santa's Stop which LCOC offers the children of their pantry. They also collect gift cards to give to the teens. These can be left in the barrels where the food is usually left and can be started ASAP.

Thanks for all your past support for the pantry and Santa's Stop.

Aline Glifort

Prayer Shawl Ministry

The St. Peter's Prayer Shawl Ministry will meet on Friday, November 5th at 1:30 PM in the Luther Room. The regularly scheduled meeting on Friday, November 19th to be determined as that is the set up day for the Cranberry Fair. Please come and join us to knit or crochet as we share a quiet, prayerful time of fellowship. Yarn, needles, or a new pattern to try all available if needed. For more information contact Marianne O'Boyle at 508-775-2757 or [marianne@o Boyle.net](mailto:marianne@o Boyle.net).

We are very grateful for Mary Hansen-Joyce who has agreed to take over coordinating the gathering of items for the gifts sent to the New England Seafarers. She will surely welcome any help that can be offered for this worthwhile project. We are in need of warm hats and shoeboxes.

We sincerely thank Evie Sherwonit and Irv Freimuth who previously facilitated this project for many years.

The Esther Circle is working on preparations for the Cranberry Fair on November 20th. The ladies will offer jewelry, yarn creations, baked goods and "Better Than Attic Treasures" items. All proceeds from the fair benefit the homeless and at-risk youth of Cape Cod as well as other important outreach programs. Donations of jewelry, knitted items, baked goods and those treasures that are no longer needed (and in which your kids are not interested ;-)) will be gratefully accepted.

All women of St. Peter's are welcome to participate in Esther Circle activities. We will meet on Tuesday, November 16th at 12:30 PM in the Luther Room. Bring your lunch. For more information contact Marianne O'Boyle at 508-775-2757 or [marianne@o Boyle.net](mailto:marianne@o Boyle.net).

Sacred Sorrow

"Grief is neither a problem to be solved nor a difficulty to be overcome. It is a sacred expression of love; a sacred sorrow."

The St. Peter's ministry for bereaved parents will meet on Thursday, November 18th at 1:30.

If you have suffered the misfortune to lose a child of any age no matter how long ago, please consider joining us. It truly helps to be with others who really understand your pain. If you are further along in your grief journey you may be able to comfort someone who has more recently experienced a loss.

May your Thanksgiving be filled with reasons to be thankful. Having loved our children and having been loved by them is perhaps the most wonderful reason of all.

Quoted from Elaine Stillwell, Bereaved mother, Rockville Centre, NY.

For more information or just to chat please contact Marianne O'Boyle at 508-775-2757 or [marianne@o Boyle.net](mailto:marianne@o Boyle.net).

Current Fuel Cell Vehicles

For decades, fuel cell vehicles have been only a dream, because they're so environmentally friendly as they emit only water. It's about time we eliminate the use of fossil fuels. The fuel of the future is pressurized hydrogen contained in carbon-fiber tanks. Currently there are 2 dozen hydrogen filling stations in southern California as this is where the new hydrogen powered Toyota Mirai, Honda Clarity and Hyundai Nexu cars are being driven. Japan and Germany have more filling stations than any other country. In the northeast, a corridor of filling stations will be built on I-90 between Buffalo and Boston.

Fuel cells are made up of three parts: an anode, a cathode and a polymer membrane. Pressurized hydrogen atoms are split into protons ( $H^+$ ) and electrons ( $H^-$ ). It's a platinum catalyst in the anode that splits the hydrogen. The polymer membrane permits the  $H^+$  to pass through the cathode, but the  $H^-$  electrons are routed to a circuit of electricity that powers the motor. Finally the  $H^+$  protons rejoin the  $H^-$  electrons plus atmospheric oxygen to create water as exhaust! Only a little over 1 volt of electricity is produced by one fuel cell, but multiple cells in a stack is sufficient to drive a vehicle. The bigger the stack the more power there is.

The Toyota Mirai zips from 0 to 60 mph in only 9 seconds with a range of 310 miles. With windows closed, the only sound is the subtle whine of air passing under the grill which is needed to make an exhaust of water moisture. Five kilograms of pressurized hydrogen sits under the back seat and a stack of fuel cells sit under the driver's seat. A nickel-hydride battery stores excess electricity when it's not used.

Several companies have conducted hydrogen fuel cell research and practical fuel cell bus trials. These include: Daimler AG, Ballard Power Systems, Wrightbus, Van Hool, Thor Industries, Irisbus, TATA Motors and Indian Oil Corporation.

Education in a bottle

Fall is here and we have recently received a new order of Palestinian olive oil.

Each purchase helps to support a college student in Palestine. Youth and their families pursuing their dreams for careers that will provide for themselves and their families, so similar to our visions as grandparents for our grandchildren.

We have a good supply of 1 liter tins that are $20 each as well as some gift bottles of 750ml for $25. Simply give me a call at 262 227-3395 or send an email at nancyhemerson@gmail.com. We can make an arrangement for a pick up at church or I can make a delivery.

As an update Tree of Life has reported the sale of 1.5 tons of organic fair trade Palestinian olive oil. I can say it definitely enhances my salads & cooking. I will be monitoring for stories I can share with you from some of the student recipients.

Looking forward to hearing from members & friends at St Peter's,
Nancy Hallberg-Emerson

Hope for the Holidays

Holidays are an especially difficult time for individuals and families temporarily living in detention centers. These immigrants, waiting for their cases to be adjudicated, are separated from family, places of worship, and normal holiday celebrations. To provide a moment of caring and hope, Lutheran Immigration and Refugee Services launched the annual Hope for the Holidays program.

Last year, volunteers working with LIRS distributed over 30,000 cards and provided more than 500 children's gifts to migrant families in detention centers across the country, as well as to individuals and families who were recently released from detention. Notably, the campaign enabled every single migrant child in family detention centers in the country to open a special present over the holiday season.

We at St Peter's contributed cards donated and signed by members and sent to the LIRS office in Baltimore for distribution. This year the JustPeace team will again collect and send cards. We invite you to bring unsigned cards in to St Peter's beginning now. There will be a box in the narthex to collect them and tables set up for signing along with sample messages in English and Spanish. Because the cards must be received in Baltimore by 3 December we will be collecting them only until 21 November.

October 2021

My Russian and French father, a naturalized US citizen, worked his way up to a position of Head of the Banquet Department at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York City. Our family home was in rural upstate New York but my Father had a studio apartment in NYC so he did not have a daily commute.

I was a "Daddy's Girl" and from age 12 I would take the bus every few weeks down to the Port Authority Terminal where my Daddy would meet me and take me to all the top restaurants in Manhattan as a treat. We ate at Louis Quatorze (French)-Mamma Leone's (Italian)-Nathans, Mid-Town Steak-House and of course, the Waldorf.

On one of these delightful trips, my Daddy announced we were going to do something different. We took the subway to the Lower East Side and got off at Second Ave.-it was scary- it was called the Bowery and the streets were full of poor homeless souls-some sleeping on the streets with old blankets and lots of empty beer bottles strewn around. We walked two blocks and then my Father announced "this is it". It was a three story tenement house-called a cold water flat-a drab old run down house-nothing like the nice house our family lived in in our friendly little village. Then my Father identified this tenement as the place he and my grandmother lived in when they first came to America from Paris. And then, I followed my Father through a very narrow dirty alley between two tenements into a courtyard with criss-crossed clothes lines filling all the empty space-and I asked-"what is this?" and my Father's reply has been imprinted in my memory ever since this day.

These are clotheslines and your grandmother did other peoples laundry so we could eat and live here when we first came to America AND no matter how well you do in life-never ever forget where your family started and be Grateful!!

And that is why I pledged money to the Safe Harbors Program and I am grateful for OUR LORD'S blessings to me and my family.

Lucie M. Carlsen recounting the words of my Daddy
